

ONE WOUNDED, TWO JAILED IN SHOOTING HERE

MURDER JURORS SEND ROGERS TO JAIL FOR LIFE

East Liverpool Man Nar-
rowly Escapes Execu-
tion In Chair

SEVEN BALLOTS TAKEN IN CASE

Five Favoring Electro-cution Finally Switch
To Mercy

LISBON, April 1.—Burl Rogers of East Liverpool was found guilty of murder in the first degree late Thursday afternoon by a jury of eight men and four women who recommended mercy.

The verdict carries with it a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment without hope of pardon or parole. Sentence will be pronounced by Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones within the three day period allowed counsel for the defense to file a motion for a new trial.

The jury filed into the court room at 4:30 p. m. Thursday concluding deliberations starting at 10:15 a. m. In response to the judge's query—"Ladies and gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?"—D. D. Duty of Wellsville, foreman, arose.

"We have, your honor," he said quietly.

Rogers Expressionless
Rogers, brought into the courtroom in the custody of Sheriff
Harry Gosney and two deputies,
did not change his expression as the judge opened an envelope and removed the verdict.

"We, the jury, find the defendant Burl Rogers guilty of the crime of first degree murder but with a recommendation of mercy," Judge Lones read.

Court Bailiff James Stevenson
then polled the jury at the request of Attorney Samuel Chertoff who,
with Attorney Frank Hoover, defended Rogers. As each name was called the juror responded, "That is my verdict."

Rogers made no comment, leaving the room with the officers
shortly after the jury was dismissed. Judge Lones thanked the jurors for their consideration of the case and the verdict before excusing them.

Seven ballots were taken before the jury reached a decision. But at no time did the members consider acquitting Rogers. The first and second ballots resulted in four votes for the death penalty and eight for mercy. The third ballot added another juror to those favoring execution but in the succeeding votes the jury shifted to a mercy recommendation.

Three possible verdicts were permitted in the judge's charge—
guilty of first degree murder, guilty
of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy, and acquittal. Manslaughter and second degree findings were eliminated in the charge.

Trial Began March 21
Rogers, charged with participating in the hold-up slaying of Charles Dickey, went on trial March 21.

Salem Girl Has Role In Villa Maria Play

When Villa Maria High school students present "Mignonette" their annual play in the school auditorium on April 23 and 24 at 8 p. m., one of the leading character roles will be played by Winifred Cullinan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cullinan, 459 South Union ave.

Cast as Paul Dardon, Migno-nette's only brother, Miss Cullinan
adds a bit of optimistic enthusiasm
to the plot.

It is an unusual play, possessing
all the elements of romance, comedy, mystery and even the quaint customs of another day and age.
The first and last acts are entirely modern, while the second act
flashes back to Civil War days.

"Mignonette," the now famous
drama of the old and new south,
which has been produced by more than 500 schools throughout the country, is regarded a logical successor to "Smilin' Thru."

E. G. MILLER DIES AT HANOVERTON

Served Village As Postmaster For Last
25 Years

Earl G. Miller, 49, postmaster at Hanoverton for 25 years, died at midnight last night at his home
following a short illness of pneumonia. He was stricken last Saturday.

Miller was named to the postmas-tership shortly after Woodrow Wilson took office as President, and was one of the latter's first appointees.

In addition to his duties as postmaster, Miller also served as principal of the public school at Han-overton.

He was born Sept. 18, 1888, and reared in Hanover township, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Florents Miller. His mother died a year ago last December.

He received his education in the schools at Hanoverton and at Mt.
Union college.

For many years he had been a member of the Christian church,
serving as teacher of the Men's Bible class.

He was active with various Masonic groups, having been a member of Sandy Valley Blue lodge No.
408; New Lisbon chapter, No. 92;
Royal Arch Masons; Omega council No. 44, Salem; Salem commandery No. 42, Knights Templar, and a member of Al Koran Shrine, at the time of his death.

He leaves his father, Florents
Miller; his wife, Bryda; one son,
Rev. Howard Miller of Hanoverton;
a daughter, Norma May, at home;
and a sister, Mrs. Dean Wang, who lives at the old family home.

The funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the home in charge of Prof. Booth of Bethany college and Knights Templar of Salem. Burial will be in Grove Hill cemetery, Hanoverton.

DRIVE LAUNCHED ON OLD PLATES

Police Report Numerous
Arrests; Some Cities
Are Lenient

The first day of April found police officers generally unwilling to "fool"
with motorists using 1937 plates
which became useless last midnight.

Numerous arrests were reported in various Ohio cities and Col. Lynn Black, superintendent of the highway patrol, ordered his officers to "pick up" drivers using old tags.

Several cities manifested a lenient attitude toward car owners who failed to display the 1938 ox-
cart-embellished plates.

Tardy Salem car owners continued to buy their new tags, as deputy registrars reported 3,450 sets of plates sold to date.

Cincinnati's city manager C. O.
Sherrill ordered a "reprieve" until 7 a. m. Monday because, he said, of the vast number still without plates
and the difficulty in obtaining truck
and trailer tags.

The Cleveland traffic department said police started making arrests
for operation of a motor vehicle
without new license plates after March 31. Frank West, state registrar of motor vehicles, said it was impossible to extend the deadline.

A fine of $25 is provided in Ohio
for operation of a motor vehicle
without new license plates after
March 31. Frank West, state registrar of motor vehicles, said it was impossible to extend the deadline.

The unwieldy craft, caught by the wind and current of the Youghiogheny river at Sutersville, Pa., turned cross-wise in midstream and swung toward a bridge pier.

By tossing out the anchor, the voyagers halted the craft and with the aid of rowboats and two canoes accompanying them, managed to get past the pier.

Late today they will tie up at Pittsburgh for an overnight stop,
then proceed down the Ohio to
"re-discover" Marietta, April 7.

Copeland Sees Continuance of Normal Spring

Observer, However, Fears
Effect of Frost
On Fruit

District Weather Observer L. H.
Copeland of Millport today looked forward to a "reprieve" from the spring, with all April's features
being above normal.

However, the Columbiana county
weatherman warned that the fruit
buds, which are now in an advanced stage, are in danger of a hard freeze, which, Copeland believes, is inevitable.

The moisture situation in the district is excellent. The grass and wheat fields have been greening ever since spring arrived on schedule, he says. A total of 4.48 inches of rain fell during March and due to the abundance of moisture,
farmers are having difficulty in working the ground.

The greatest rainfall in a 24-hour period last month occurred on the 13th and 14th measuring 1.20 inch. There were 15 days in the month with .01 inch or more precipitation. There was one inch of snowfall.

An all-time in temperature high was set for March 22 when the thermometer soared to 82 degree.
The minimum reading of 10 degrees was March 4, Copeland's records show. A 43-degree variation in

EUROPEAN TIES HIT BY HOOVER

Former President Links Planned Economy With Fascism

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 1.—The United States, says Herbert Hoover, should avoid any alliance with other democratic nations against Fascist powers, and at the same time be wary lest Fascism take root in this country through "planned economy."

"I found most nations in Europe
convinced that we would be inevitably drawn into the next great war
as in the last," said the former president, just back from Europe,
in an address last night before the council on foreign relations.

"Harden Our Resolves"
"Some people build confidence upon it. But every phase of this picture should harden our resolves that we keep out of other people's wars. Nations in Europe need to be convinced that this is our policy."

Our national mission, he asserted, is to "keep aloft the lamp
of true liberalism."
"But," he added, "it is in the United States that we must keep it alight."

"Europe today is a rumbling war machine," he said, "without the men yet in the trenches."

He devoted much of his speech
to a warning against the "planned economy" which he said was being adopted by Fascist nations.

At present all tangible personal property used in manufacturing,
mining and agriculture is listed at 50 per cent of its value for taxation purposes, while that used in business is listed at 70 per cent of its value.

The estimated valuation of tangible personal property in Ohio
in 1937 for taxation purposes was $830,000,000. An average rate of 20
mills per dollar, or two per cent,
would have netted $16,600,000.

Taxing this property at its estimated true value of $1,446,571,000
would have brought in $28,931,420.
Davey says has exhausted all its money for this purpose.

Representatives of 16 cities and four counties, meeting in Cleveland, estimated $17,000,000 would have to be expended, in addition to the $12,000,000 already made available
by the legislature, to finance relief through the remainder of this year.

NEW TELEGRAMS URGE HOUSE TO KILL F.D.R. BILL

Telegraph Workers Toil
All Night On Thousands of Messages

REV. FR. COUGHLIN ASSAILS MEASURE

Administration Leaders Fight for Passage Before Week End

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 1.—A new deluge of telegrams urged house
members today to kill the government reorganization bill, but administration leaders fought steadily
for its passage before the week ends.

Employees of telegraph companies worked all night to handle the uncounted thousands of messages,
many of which were received after a hastily-arranged radio denunciation of the bill by Rev. Fr. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit priest. Bot sides agreed it was too early to tell
the effect of the protests.

On the basis of preliminary returns from a poll of members, some Democratic chieftains openly declared the bill would pass. Republican Leader Snell of New York conceded that the opposition did not command enough votes—"yet"—to defeat it.

Seek Final Vote Tomorrow
Although leaders failed yesterday to place a limit on debate, it was common talk in house cloak-rooms that they wanted a final vote by tomorrow to stave off some of the communications, especially those that might follow a Sunday
speech by Father Coughlin.

If that was their intention, the priest crossed them up by going on the air last night.

"If there must be reorganization of government," he said, "let it begin where it should begin—at the head."

Father Coughlin criticized the bill's provision for placing the office of education under a proposed new department of welfare.

"By its very words," he said, "it admits that it is an instrument aimed to centralize government in a totalitarian state, with education of your offspring as one of its most outstanding features."

Issues Statement
Shortly after his speech Monsignor Michael J. Ready, general secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, issued a statement in Washington. The administrative board of the conference, he said,
"has always on principle opposed the conferring of administrative control on federal educational agencies." Then he added:

"If, therefore, the present reorganization measure is passed, it will be a blow to the principle of local control of education."

Hey, you kids! There's big news for you in tomorrow's edition of The Salem News.

Your Saturday paper will carry a special page devoted entirely to plans for The News'
second annual marble tournament for local boys and girls.

Watch for it!
There'll be pictures of last year's local and national winners, scenes showing the 1937
finalists at play, rules and regulations for the tournament
contests and a host of other details all you marble experts
will want to know before you
"knuckle down" for the big prizes.

Motorcycle Riders Hurt In Collision

Two Alliance youths riding on a motorcycle escaped possible serious injuries at 6:35 p. m. Thursday when their cycle and an automobile collided at the intersection of Route 62 and the Westville-N.
Georgetown road at Westville.

James F. Dixon, 19, who was operating the motorcycle, suffered injuries to his right knee and leg,
face lacerations and bruises about the body. Albert McGee, 21, riding behind Dixon, was unhurt, although both were thrown when the vehicle crashed into a car driven by Mrs.
Sepolia Goshman, 51, of S. Union ave., Alliance.

Corp. W. E. Arey of the Salem
state highway patrol said Mrs.
Goshman became confused and drove out in front of the motorcycle, traveling east on Route 62.
The machine was enroute north
on the other road.

SENATE EXTENDS POWERS OF RFC

Bill Enlarging Agency's Authority Now Goes
To House

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The senate passed today a bill to give the Reconstruction Finance Corporation wide new authority to lend to business enterprises. It also would revive RFC loans to states and subdivisions for public works construction.

The administration measure now goes to the house.

The bill, by Senator Glass (D-Va.), would extend the scope of RFC lending and permit that agency to make available approximately $1,500,000,000 for long time
loans.

Loans to states and subdivisions
would be permitted not only on so-called "self-liquidating" projects,
but on all projects where the RFC finds there is reasonable assurance of repayment.

Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the RFC testified the measure would make funds available for five, ten or 15 year loans to business which commercial banks might not undertake.

The bill was passed before many senators knew what was happening.

Vice President Garner, immediately after the roll call at the opening of the day's session, called for a voice vote on an amendment.
When a thin chorus of "ayes" was heard, he called for a vote on final passage of the bill. The measure carried by a second voice vote.

WOMAN FACTOR IN CASE, DEPUTY SHERIFFS STATE

Adam Majzlick, 25, of Salem, Victim of Shooting, In Hospital

SHERIFF QUIZZES DAVID S. NAUGLE

Mrs. Clara Sanders, housekeeper, Is Held As Witness

A shooting at a home on the Franklin road, three miles southeast of the city, late Thursday night put one man in the hospital and landed another man and a woman in the county jail.

David Samuel Naugle, 57, of the Franklin road, was jailed on an open charge by Chief Deputy Sheriff Otto Stacey and Deputy
M. K. Duty after Naugle was alleged to have shot and seriously wounded Adam Majzlick, 25, of Salem. Mrs. Clara Sanders, 40, was held in jail as a material witness.

Lived in New Jersey
According to the deputy sheriffs, Majzlick and Mrs. Sanders had been living together at Camden, N. J., until two months ago when
Mrs. Sanders came to Salem.
Majzlick followed her here and for awhile they resided in rooms on
S. Ellsworth ave.

Recently the woman went to work as housekeeper for Naugle.
Majzlick protested, Deputy Duty
reported, but she continued to work there.

Shortly before midnight, on a second visit to Naugle's home, Majzlick struck Naugle over the head with a rock, Duty said and Naugle went back into his house,
got a .38 calibre revolver and fired
three shots at Majzlick.

Two Bullets Felt Mark
The first bullet went wild but the other two struck the victim in the chest. Majzlick, who lay at the scene of the shooting for quite awhile, was removed to Salem City hospital at 2:25 a. m., where his condition today is reported only fair. The right lung is punctured.
An artery in the left arm was severed by a bullet.

Meanwhile, at the county jail in Lisbon today, Sheriff Harry L.
Gosney, Prosecutor Karl Stouffer
and other officers questioned Naugle and Mrs. Sanders further.

Both Majzlick and Mrs. Sanders,
during their short time in Salem,
have been arrested on minor charges. He served time in the city jail and she was sent to the county jail on two occasions.

WELL, THEY'RE PRETTY

This zeppelin thing gets more confusing all the time. When the Macon had joined the Akron in a watery grave, it was conceded in this country there were grounds for doubting the practicality of rigid airships.

Perhaps the Germans could make something of them, but evidently Americans didn't have the knack. Shortly afterward, the Germans, themselves, lost the Hindenburg.

Whereupon the United States, which was quite sure then that zeppelins, even in the hands of Germans, were too tricky to handle, made helium available to Germany for the Hindenburg's successor. Then it decided to build another zeppelin of its own. In the meantime, government officials got cold feet on the helium proposition and decided to make sure Germany wouldn't get enough of the gas to use in case of war.

And now the Germans, themselves, are saying zeppelins aren't worth a tinker's dam for war, just when the United States is getting ready to build another one. What is this anyhow—the heat?

JOGGERS

You don't hear much about them—a lifetime might be spent without even seeing one in action—but this is the season when tens of thousands of school boys remove everything but a pair of shorts, an undershirt and some light shoes and take up jogging in a serious way.

There is one of the oldest of all sports and one of the noblest. Yet, despite the attention drawn to it by an occasional Jesse Owens or Glenn Cunningham, the devotees of running mostly count on performing without an audience.

For hours, days and weeks they jog patiently to reach momentary climaxes of form perhaps no more than a half dozen times a season. They grind and strain for the pure joy of being at their best for a contest which may be over in 10 or 22 seconds.

They are about the closest thing to genuine amateurs left in the country, next to the lacrosse players, the fencers and the tumblers, who take their exercise for fun, too, with never a headline or an "offer" to turn their heads.

OUCH, THE OVERHEAD

Evidently, the United States is going to spend about a billion and a quarter dollars in the next fiscal year to soothe its militaristic jitters. This will represent about $9.60 a piece for protection.

It's the highest per capita rate for national defense ever reached in this country, except when a war was going on, or just about to go on.

Going back to 1810, one finds the per capita cost of defense was about 50 cents a person. In 1850 it had climbed up to 75 cents, and in 1890, with the martial fever beginning to take hold, it passed the dollar level for the first time, reaching $1.60.

In 1922, tapering off from the World war, the country spent in the neighborhood of $8.00 a person for defense. Ten years later, in 1932, it had dropped back to the neighborhood of $5.00.

This is a large item of overhead in anybody's cost accounting system—not nearly so large as corresponding items in Great Britain, Germany, France and Japan, of course, but still large enough to make it clear that a constantly rising cost of theoretical international security accompanied by no actual increase of security is one of the nutty aspects of what is glowingly described as civilization.

BOMBARDMENT

It would clear the air if Americans were to be told just what is wrong with the practice of telegraphic bombardments of their congressmen.

If it's the fact such bombardments frequently are the result of organized effort, that object has no weight. There is no material difference between asking constituents to send telegrams and letters to congressmen and asking them to sign a petition, and the right of petition is unquestionable. It is a right which cannot be exercised without organization.

"LET'S TALK ABOUT AERIAL BOMBING"

BY DE WITT MACKENZIE

NEW YORK, April 1.—Let's talk about aerial bombings, including those which "fracture the morale of the people," since Signor Mussolini has invited discussion, having broached the subject in his graphic speech about Italy's preparedness for war.

Your correspondent doesn't mind discussing the matter, if he can do so from his present vantage point of comparative safety, rather than from the position of the man-on-the-ground looking up, as in the World War.

A lot of people are that way. They contemplate the bombing with considerable more composure when it's far away.

An "Understanding" This reminds us that in the World War there apparently was a tacit understanding between the enemies that the bombing planes shouldn't bother army headquarters.

The revered king and queen of the Belgians lived with their three children, throughout the war, in a small house at La Panne, just back of their firing line. The Germans seemingly could have blown the royal family up by tossing a single shell.

The Germans never lifted a finger against their majesties, however. It is only fair to say, of course, that the Kaiser's soldiers

If it's the fact such bombardments frequently are directed against a move by the party in power to use its political machinery in the capital to accomplish a legislative coup, then there is even less weight to the objection. The answer to force, as it is popular to point out right now, is force. If administration heat is going to be turned on congressmen in Washington, certainly their constituents have a right to turn on heat from the crossroads.

If it's merely old fashioned peevishness over having to face the disagreeable task of taking care of an opposition, that's something else. In that case, all objections to telegraphic and postal bombardments of congress on the eve of important votes can be laughed off. At the moment, that seems to be the prevailing notion.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, April 2

A day of surprises and sudden undertakings is revealed by the planetary operations. There may be unexpected developments causing a change of residence, interests or an unforeseen journey. An element of secrecy or collusion seems at the bottom of this. It would be advisable to be influenced by elders, who have the best welfare at heart, but be wary as to deceit or treacheries from doubtful associates. Go slow on secret agreements.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for the advent of sudden and surprising developments in the affairs. These may call for unplanned change, travel, new interests and associations. Confer with elders when making decisions and be alert to schemes, pitfalls and secret agreements with others.

A child born on this day may have a sound mind and good judgment but may be disposed to accomplish matters by easy methods, intrigue and secret understandings, rather than open standards of ethics.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City.

LUNGS

NOWADAYS WE hear a great deal about pneumonia and other infections of the lungs. Too often these disorders can be traced to the neglect of simple colds and other infections.

The lungs carry oxygen to the blood cells. It is estimated that in 24 hours an active man absorbs more than 30 cubic feet of oxygen. During the same period the blood gives up more than 20 cubic feet of carbon dioxide, the gas which carries waste material.

In the lungs are clusters of very thin-walled air sacs. Tiny blood vessels are found in these clusters. The air, penetrating the walls of the sacs and of the blood vessels, permits the oxygen to pass into the blood by which it is carried to all parts of the body.

After the blood has traveled throughout the body, it returns to the lungs. The waste gases it carries penetrate the tissues, reach the air sacs and then are expelled as we breathe out. If we do not get rid of the carbon dioxide, it accumulates in the blood and produces harmful effects.

To regulate all these functions, there is located in the brain a control station or "respiratory center." This speeds up our breathing if there is an accumulation of carbon dioxide.

How Trouble Arises

Under certain conditions the lungs will not respond to orders from the center. If they are congested, inflamed or diseased, there will be trouble. That is what happens in pneumonia and why pneumonia is so serious a disease. Even in milder forms of disease, there is sometimes serious interference with the operation of our breathing machinery.

We should always be careful to guard against germs and inflammation of this delicate and vital system. Consult the doctor upon the first sign of any disorder.

ance in the lung or its functions will enable the doctor to give advice which will ward off serious trouble. This is true even of such dreaded disease as tuberculosis. Neglect, delay, carelessness and doubt are responsible for a terrible amount of misery.

An abundance of sunlight and fresh air, together with habitual deep-breathing, will keep the lungs and blood in good condition. Common sense dictates that each of us shall observe the rules of proper living.

Answers to Health Queries Mrs. L. L. Q.—What is St. Vitus dance? How can it be cured? I would like to get some literature on this disease.

A—St. Vitus dance is a nervous disorder which may be brought on by a number of different conditions. The treatment depends upon the underlying cause. For further particulars, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper.

Members Of Goshen Harmony Club Select Leaders for 1938

Goshen Harmony club members were entertained by Mrs. Alton D. Allen Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leroy Iler on East Third st.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Ira Burton; vice president, Mrs. Russell Prantz; secretary, Mrs. Frank Weingart; treasurer, Mrs. William Ovington. Mrs. Prantz was reappointed as corresponding secretary.

Members and guests enjoyed an informal social afternoon. Guests included Mrs. A. S. Allen, Mrs. George McCarty, Mrs. Eldon Iler and Miss Elsie Bogar.

The hostess was assisted in serving lunch by Miss Helen Iler.

The next meeting April 28 will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Baird, Goshen rd.

Large Audience Applauds Work Of Salem Pianist

Charles Sydney Freed, promising young pianist, presented his first recital to a capacity audience in the auditorium of the Methodist church last night.

Freed, whose program evidenced much talent and brilliance, has also achieved prominence as a composer. Two of the numbers, performed by guest musicians, were original.

Miss Kathryn Cessna sang the song, "Candles," musical setting by Freed to a poem by an American poet. The church was illuminated entirely by candles during the number, providing an impressive background for the highly effective number.

John Hundertmark played the violin solo "Poem," also a Freed composition.

The church was decorated with large baskets of forsythia, pussy-willows and palms and many lighted candles.

Freed's interesting and novel interpretation of his numbers won the appreciation of his large audience.

Sunshine Society Leaders Named

Mrs. Jess Whitton was named president of the Sunshine society when members met yesterday at her home on the Georgetown rd.

Other officers are: Vice president, Mrs. Bryan Sanor; secretary, Mrs. Ed. Brudery; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Haines; assistant, Mrs. Charles Hannay; lecturer, Mrs. Carroll Rogers.

The society colors, yellow and white, were used in decorations for the lunch which was served later in the afternoon.

Mrs. Wallace Weaver was a guest of the club.

Plans for the next meeting will be announced later.

Mrs. Harry Snyder Class Hostess

Mrs. Harry Snyder was hostess to members of the True Blue class of the First Presbyterian church at her home on Buckeye ave., last night.

Mrs. Oliver Ashead, Mrs. Dudley Ashead and Mrs. Robert Buckholdt were assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Buckholdt led the devotional service and Miss Doris King entertained with two vocal selections.

Sparkle Be Club Entertained

Mrs. Harry James was hostess to members of the Sparkle Be club at her home on Cleveland ave., Thursday evening.

Three tables of bridge were in play. Guests were Mrs. Andrew Arnold and Mrs. V. K. Steenson. Refreshments were served by Mrs. James assisted by Mrs. Ralph Whiteleather.

Mrs. Edwin Deagan of East Third st., will entertain in two weeks.

Just-A-Mere Club Is Entertained

Just-A-Mere club members were entertained last night at the home of Mrs. Fred Mott of New Garden ave.

Prizes for the evening's cards went to Mrs. Paul Ormsby and Mrs. Clifford Todd. Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Gus Schuster was a guest of the club.

The members will meet next Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Leslie, Columbia st.

Miss Dorothy Day, student at Miami university, Oxford, will arrive here tonight to spend the spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Day, Franklin st.

NEW TELEGRAMS HIT F.D.R. BILL

Telegraph Workers Toil All Night On Thousands of Messages

organization bill does not extend the powers and functions of these agencies beyond fact-finding and dissemination of information, as at present exercised, there is no reason to suppose that the Catholic interests as such are concerned in the legislation.

In evaluating any protests from Catholic sources, it would be well to investigate whether these protests have been provoked by misinformation in regard to the bill.

Few references were made in yesterday's house debate to President Roosevelt's denial that he aspired to become a dictator.

Rep. Woodruff told the house that "we are moving in the direction of a dictatorship."

Rep. Lamneck (D-Ohio) said labor fears the bill "because it is a definite move toward dictatorship."

Recalls 1933 Action

Chairman Cochran (D-Mo) of the reorganization committee, on the other hand, recalled that in 1933 the President had been given a measure of authority to reorganize and that again last August the house had passed a reorganization bill.

"Was there any cry of dictatorship then?" he asked.

One of the longer denunciations of the bill came from Lamneck, who said its real objective was to perpetuate the Roosevelt regime, perhaps with WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins as president.

Hopkins, he contended, is certain to be named secretary of a proposed new department of welfare which would make permanent the "octopus-like" relief machine as the "most potent force in the United States for many years to come."

Rep. Warren (D-NC), who played a large part in framing the general reorganization provisions, remarked:

"Congress can try from now until eternity and will never make a dent in the bureaucracy that exists today. It can only be done by one man."

"If you lack confidence in that man, if you distrust him, then you ought not to vote for this bill."

Pythian Sisters Will Hold Inspection

Pythian Sisters, at their meeting in the hall last night, completed plans for their annual inspection on April 28.

A new social committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Alvin Carr, Mrs. N. C. Boats, Mrs. George Barnes, Mrs. Leroy Sell, and Mrs. Curtis Huppely.

Members made arrangements for a benefit to be held April 6 and 7. Lunch was served by the committee in charge.

The next session will be held April 14.

Wooster To Crown May Queen

ERMA WOODING MISS LOWRIE JEAN ENFIELD

JEAN BROCKMAN (LEFT), JANE GRUBER - PLAYERS

Jean Enfield, of Shaker Heights, a junior at Wooster college, will be crowned Wooster's 28th May Queen at Color day exercises May 14. This is believed to be the longest line of college May queens in the middle west.

Miss Erma Wooding, of Washington, D. C., last year's queen, will crown the new queen.

"Hansel and Gretel's Adventures in Light Opera Land," a playlet written by Miss Jane Gruber of Canton and Miss Jean Brockman of Ashville, N. C., directed by the authors and Miss Kathleen Lowrie of the department of physical education for women, will then be staged in honor of the new queen.

This will be Wooster's 34th annual Color day.

temperature occurred March 19. The month's mean maximum reading was 51.3 degrees and the mean minimum, 32.1 degrees.

Normal is 37.3 Degrees

The normal March temperature for the past 46 years is 37.3 degrees, Copeland states. The normal precipitation for that same period is 3.29 inches.

March of 1937 had a mean temperature of 32.7 degrees and a maximum temperature of 60 degrees. The minimum reading was 10. The precipitation total was 1.88 inch. Total snowfall measured four inches.

The wettest March on record, Copeland's records show, was in 1923, with 6.57 inches of rainfall. The driest was in 1910 with only 15 inch rainfall. March, 1910, likewise was the warmest, with 45.3 degree mean temperature. March of 1916 was the coldest, having a mean temperature of 29.2 degrees.

JURORS RETURN GUILTY VERDICT

East Liverpool Man Nar-
rowly Escapes Execu-
tion In Chair

the victim and his brother, Frank,
while the two were delivering milk
early Christmas morning 1935.
During the hold-up Clarence Dickey was fatally wounded by a bullet fired by Dudley Adams.
Frank, the brother, was wounded in the right arm and testimony introduced at the trial placed the responsibility for this shot on Clon-ton Daniels, never apprehended.
Adams is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for his part in the slaying.

Adams, brought to the courtroom
in the custody of a prison official,
testified as a state witness, but repudiated many of the statements made during his trial two years ago.

The defense maintained Rogers
was guilty, at the most, of conspiracy in an act of petty larceny;
that he did not know his companions were armed and had remained seated in the car during the hold-up. They asserted Rogers believed his accomplices intended to "sneak" a case of milk.

The prisoner, taking the stand in his own behalf, told the jury he was not armed and was not aware Adams and Daniels were armed until he heard the shots. At the first report, he said, he started the car and had proceeded about four car lengths when he heard the second shot.

A clerk at a Lisbon hardware
today expressed the belief he may have a solution for the mystery of the two bullets found in the courtroom during the Rogers trial Wednesday.

As a result of the discovery of the bullets, Judge W. P. Lones halted the hearing and two deputies
"frisked" about 25 male spectators.
The hardware clerk says a farmer bought eight .32 caliber "long"
cartridges, the same type found in the courtroom. Later, he returned and said he'd like to exchange them for "short" cartridges. But he could find only six of them. He commented: "I must have lost them somewhere between here and the courthouse."

THEATER Attractions

Pictures booked for theaters here next week offer some of the best screen entertainment of the season. The State opens the week with the "Goldwyn Follies," technicolor musical which lists an exceptionally large cast of musical and comedy favorites.

Among them are Adolphe Menjou; the Ritz brothers; Zorina, young dancer of international fame; Kenny Baker; Andrea Leeds; the American Ballet, Phil Baker; Helen Jepson, Metropolitan star; Ella Logan, Bobby Clark and Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy.

Depict Making of Film
The romance of Baker and Miss Leeds knits together an unusually good film depicting the making of a great film.

The picture will show three days at the State, ending Tuesday.

Another of the very popular "Bulldog Drummond" mystery tales shows on a Wednesday only bill at the State. "Bulldog Drummond's Peril" again gives the title role to John Howard, that of his young wife to Louise Campbell. Reginald Denny plays again the role of the ace detective's slightly insane friend, Algie, and John Barrymore, as usual, has the role of Inspector Nielson of Scotland Yard.

Shirley Temple's "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" comes to the State to compete the week's entertainment, showing Thursday through Saturday. Randolph Scott, Jack Haley, Florida, Phyllis Brooks, Helen Westley, Slim Summerville, Bill Robinson, Alan Dinehart, J. Edward Bromberg and the Raymond Scott quintet have featured parts.

Two good comedy romances make up the Sunday, Monday and Tuesday attractions at the Grand theater. The first feature is "Love, Honor and Behave," starring Wayne Morris, Priscilla Lane, John Littel, Thomas Mitchell, Dick Foran. The second is "Prescription for Romance," with Wendy Barrie, Kent Taylor, Francha Auer, Dorothy Kent, Frank Jenks and Henry Hunter.

Another Newspaper Story
Glenda Farrell and Barton MacLane continue in the leading roles of a "Torchy Lane" newspaper mystery story, "Blondes at Work." The picture is the Number 1 feature on a double bill which shows Wednesday and Thursday at the Grand.

The other half of the bill is "Who Killed Gail Preston?" a murder mystery tale which gives featured parts to Don Terry, Rita Hayworth, Robert Paige and Wynne Gibson.

"The Three Mesquiteers," Bob Livingston, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune, have a new series of adventures in "Call the Mesquiteers," which will be the Friday and Saturday attraction at the Grand.

Concluding Saturday are: "Mad About Music," the new Deanna

Durbin film, at the State; and the Hopalong Cassidy story "Partners of the Plains," at the Grand.

SHERIFF'S SALE IN PARTITION
General Code, Secs. 11037, 11681
Case No. 27806.
The State of Ohio, Columbiana County, Common Pleas Court.
Ruth B. Culler Crook, plaintiff vs. Frank Culler, et al. defendant.
Notice is hereby given, that on Tuesday the 8th day of April A. D. 1938, at the hour of 2:30 o'clock P. M., I will offer for sale at public auction on the premises in Salem, Ohio, the following real estate, to-wit:
Situating in the Township of Perry, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as and being Lot Number Fifty-one (51) in Hillsdale, a platted suburb of the City of Salem, the same being of County Plat Book No. 4, Page 45. Said Lot has a South front of Fifty-two and four tenths (52.4) along the North line of Olive Street and is bounded on the East by Lot Number Fifty-two (52) and on the West by Lot Number Fifty (50). The North end of the lot having a width of Forty-three feet (43) and is bounded by an alley, being and later conveyed again by Rollin B. Heaton et ux to John Heberle, and by John Heberle and wife to Grantor, D. A. Wilbur, by deed of date January 8th, 1936, recorded in Volume 221, Page 392 of Deed Records of Columbiana County, Ohio, of which deed reference is hereby made.
And also being the same premises described in deed from D. A. Wilbur, et ux to Ella Culler, recorded in Deed Volume No. 335 at Page No. 224, Records of Deeds of Columbiana County, Ohio.
Said property is located on Olive Street and the mail delivery, R. D. 2, Hillsdale, Salem, Ohio.
Appraised at $1200 and can not be sold for less than two-thirds of that amount.
Given under my hand this 7th day of March, 1938.
HARRY L. GOSNEY, Sheriff of Columbiana County, O.

Here and There About Town

Tells About Yellowstone Park

A true picture of Yellowstone national park was brought to Klamathians, following their noon luncheon yesterday in the Memorial building, by George Dustman, former park ranger.

Dustman, now mayor of Bucyrus, served as a ranger for seven years. He described interestingly the geographical position of the park, its natural beauties, the wild life that abounds within its borders, and recalled many of his experiences.

E. A. Englehart was chairman. A bushel of Florida oranges, from W. L. Fultz, now vacationing in the south, was distributed among the club members.

Girl Scouts Plan Hike

Girl Scouts will enjoy their first hike this year when they go to Blue Mountain Saturday. Half of the girls will leave at 8:30 a. m. under Leader Mrs. C. J. Lehman. They will lay the trail for the second group who plan to go at 9 a. m., accompanied by their leader, Mrs. D. R. Aubill.

The members will take part in several tests during the morning and will cook their lunch at noon. They will return about 1:30 p. m.

Will Close Engagement

The Latin American trio, which has been featured nightly at the Silver Cocktail room, Metzger hotel, for three weeks, will close their engagement Saturday night.

Conchita, "The Mexican Songbird" star of radio and screen, has been the outstanding hit of the trio with her vocal numbers of popular Spanish and Mexican songs.

The two male members of the trio accompanied Conchita on trumpet and guitar.

Intelligence Test

Two hundred and sixty-four Sophomores at Salem High school took the Ohio State general intelligence test at the high school building Wednesday morning. The tests, which were in charge of Principal Harold M. Williams, required three periods.

The psychological exams are given each year to one of the high school classes.

Home For Vacation

Arthur Brian, student at Duke university at Durham, N. C., arrived home Thursday to spend the spring vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brian. He has been pledged to Lambda Chi Alpha national fraternity, which requires high scholastic standings of its members.

Hospital Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Probert of South Union ave., are parents of a son born yesterday at noon in Salem City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hiseox of R. D. 2, Lisbon are parents of a daughter, born yesterday morning in Salem City hospital.

Will Lead Service

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cosand of Damascus will have charge of the services in songs, music and the gospel message at the Patmos school house at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Everyone is welcome.

Automobiles Collide

Little damage resulted when machines driven by Mrs. Ruth Berry of 1145 E. Third st. and Gilbert Round of Alliance collided on Sugartree alley at 6 p. m. Thursday, police said.

Roller Skating Party

The Courtney, Todd, Reynolds and Stallsmith classes of the Christian Sunday school will have a roller skating party at Washingtonville Monday evening.

Recent Births

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steffel, 1146 East Third st., are the parents of a son born Saturday night at City hospital. He has been named David Francis.

Building Permit

Max Adler of 211 N. Howard ave. obtained a building permit from the city today for the erection of a 150 garage.

DEATHS

FRANKFORT FUNERAL RITES
Funeral service for George Edward Frankfort, 69, who died at his home in Washingtonville Wednesday night, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the home, in charge of Rev. O. A. Kelly. Burial will be in North Lima cemetery.

A native of Beaver township, he has resided in Washingtonville the last 20 years.

Deputy On Leave

LISBON, April 1 — Mrs. Mary Rahter, deputy in County Recorder Glenn Robert's office, started a two weeks' leave of absence today.

Mrs. Rahter tendered her resignation, early in March, which the county commissioners and Mr. Robert declined to accept. They have expressed the hope Mrs. Rahter would return to her post at the expiration of her leave of absence. Private business demands prompted the resignation, the deputy stated.

Trial Near Close

SPRINGFIELD, April 1. — The first degree murder trial of Mrs. Grace Bayless, charged with the fatal shooting last July 3 of her husband, Edward, neared its close today as Mrs. Bayless testified in her own defense. She said she shot Bayless after he first fired two wild shots at her.

LITTLE CITY CAGE TOURNEY TO OPEN TONIGHT

NINE TOURNAMENT GAMES LISTED FOR MEMORIAL

Little City Cage Event Gets Under Way At Local Gym

With 21 teams in the field and a galaxy of former collegiate and scholastic stars to add color to the program, Joe Kelley's fourth annual Little City cage tournament gets under way this evening at the Memorial building.

The Hainan Restaurants of Salem and Damascus Merchants were scheduled to open the program at 5:30 p. m. The other eight games will follow at intervals of 45 minutes.

The crack Toronto team, which includes in its lineup the famed Tom Kinkade, who averaged 25.9 points a game for 22 games with Toronto High's Red Knights last season, will see action at 10 o'clock, meeting the Newell, W. Va., Ex-High.

Salem's leading contender for the championship, Shasteen's Senior Service Station, will take the floor at 8:30 for an engagement with the Tournoux Chevrolet of Louisville.

The Shasteen team includes on its roster the names of Frank "Doc" Keker, brilliant Western Reserve star; Herb Brown, Salem High school basketball coach; and former Ohio State cager; Ed Wilms, former Mount Union star; Frankie Culler and Charlie McCloskey, two of the leading players from the Class A City League, and Wayne Siding, former Salem High cager who was another of Western Reserve's top-notch players.

Two other Salem entrants the Knights of Columbus and Saxons, will also see action tonight. The K. of C. team will meet the Brookfield Hoyle's Club at 10:45, while the Saxons, playing under the name of North Georgetown Green Country Grill at 7:45.

The Kent Collegians, runner-up for the championship last year, will make their first start in the 1938 tournament at 7 o'clock when they will take on the Minerva Eagles, a team of Mt. Union and Minerva stars. The Kent team is one of the tournament favorites.

In other games tonight, the Struthers Campbell Works will meet East Palestine's Huck Dairy at 6:15, New Brighton, Pa., Italy Dairy will face East Canton Sherer Bets at 9:15 and Holiday's Cove, W. Va., will tackle the winner of the Hainan-Damascus game at 11:30.

Four teams which were given byes through the first round will not play until tomorrow. They are Hubbard Odd Fellows, Parma Heights, North Canton Sponseller Plumbers and Bedford V-8's.

Second round play will start at 11 a. m. Saturday. The tournament will continue all Saturday afternoon and wind up with the consolation and final games at 3:30 and 5:30 respectively Saturday night.

WOMEN KEGLERS SET FOR EVENT

Feminine Pin - Toppling Tournay Attracts 731 Teams

COLUMBUS, April 1.—Mrs. Emma Platter, secretary of the Women's International Bowling Congress, said today that the 21st annual tournament of that group scheduled April 21-May 23 at Cincinnati had attracted the greatest entry list in its history, 731 teams being slated to compete with the books still open.

That figure breaks the record of 577 set last year at Rochester, N. Y., by 200. The singles and doubles totals for the coming meet have not been tabulated, but Mrs. Platter said they would exceed the 691 two-woman and 1,359 individual registrations of 1937.

Of the 731 teams, 430 are "traveling" quintets, exceeding the old mark by 149 out-of-town entries, while the other 301 are from Cincinnati. Among the distant spots sending teams are New York (2), Los Angeles (6), the Dakotas (3), Texas (7), and other places which Mrs. Platter described as "I didn't know were on the map."

The secretary said Los Angeles, Oklahoma City and Milwaukee would put in bids for the 1939 tournament at the annual meeting April 25. Defending champions and their winning scores are:

Team: Hell Uniform Heats of Milwaukee, 2,685.
Doubles: Garnett Weber and Lora Frank of Fort Wayne, Ind., 50.
Singles: Ann Gottstine of Buffalo, N. Y., 647.
All-events: Louise Stockdale of Detroit, Mich., 1,761.

Factors Affecting World Series Games Numerous and Conflicting, Gould Shows

(This is the second of three stories dealing with the currently debated baseball issue: Is the American league stronger than the national.)

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, April 1.—National leaguers shudder or put cotton in their ears when they think of tackling those ferocious Yankees in another World Series.

You can't blame them. Five times in the last 11 years the Yanks have flattened their rivals in the big-money battle. They have taken 20 out of 23 games, including 12 in succession in 1927, 1928 and 1932 against the Pirates, Cardinals and Cubs. Only the Giants have put up anything resembling a struggle, and last year they came apart, too.

It distorts the picture, however, to contend that this Yankee domination carries with it superiority for the American league as a whole. You can't take the Yankees out of it, of course, but it should be observed (1) that the New York club has contributed chiefly to the 21-13 margin of the Americans in World Series competition, and (2) that outside of the series in which the Yanks have participated since the war, the inter-league battle has been pretty much of a standoff.

The factors affecting world series results are numerous and conflicting. Big league magnates, for example, twice have recognized the inconclusiveness of a best-of-seven series by lengthening the limit to nine games. It is true that relative condition, psychological factors and the "breaks" have contributed as much to World Series

MILNAR TO GET REGULAR BERTH WITH INDIANS

Rookie Shows Class As Pitcher; Hurls 12 Blank Innings

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—Al Milnar, Cleveland Indians' southpaw hurler from New Orleans, is definitely in the running for regular mound assignments, according to Manager Oscar Vitt. Milnar has hurled 12 straight scoreless innings against the Giants, Athletics, Phillies and New Orleans Pelicans.

LAKELAND, Fla.—With Bill McKechnie apparently set on Willard Hersberger as one of the Cincinnati Reds' two catchers, there is talk in the Reds camp that either Ernie Lombardi or Spud Davis, the other receivers, will be with another club by June 1. McKechnie has said he would not carry more than two receivers.

YUMA, Ariz.—While the management of the Chicago White Sox admitted it was hot on the trail of a shortstop to replace Luke Appling, all hands denied the Sox were seeking Woody English of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Two ailing Chicago Cub pitchers, Bob Logan, who has an infected toe, and Curt Davis, who turned his ankle recently, were expected to return to the mound as the rival Chicago teams squared off today.

FRESNO, Calif.—Manager Pie Traynor gives plenty of credit to his youngsters and No. 1 rookie, Johnny Rizzo, in particular, for the Pirates' seven straight victories. Rizzo has collected three homers, two long triples and a pair of doubles this year.

GOLFING'S BEST IN ANNUAL MEET

Famed Bobby Jones takes Up Clubs Again to Compete at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 1.—There was a sneaking hunch around Augusta that this April Fools' day might be the foolingest one since Sadie Warbucks got set six tricks with a perfect bridge hand.

This is the day Bobby Jones goes to the post again in the Augusta national invitation golf championship.

Because the great master, now 36 years old, hasn't been much better than a Sunday golfer since he descended from his world throne in 1930, he was rated by the bookies at 32 to 2 in a field of 44 starters. And yet, there was a suspicion he might fool everybody, at least with enough fine golf to throw a scare into his field.

Bob unquestionably is playing the finest golf he has shot since he finished in a 12th place tie in the tournament's first running four years ago. In two successive warm-up drills, he scored 70-69 to trim par.

On the basis of form under fire, Harry Cooper, Dick Metz, Sam Snead, and Byron Nelson, defending titleholder, appeared to be the class of the three-day, 72-hole medal championship grind.

Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour and a quartet of 1938 American Walker cup players were long shots. Eighteen-hole rounds, beginning at 12:30 p. m. (EST), will be played today and tomorrow, with the 36-hole final drive on Sunday.

outcome as the twin major assets of power or pitching. The Americans not only have had the happy faculty of producing more "super teams," such as the Athletics of two eras and the Boston Red Sox, as well as the Yankees, but they have established a more effective esprit de corps.

Over a long stretch, the best minds of the American league have pooled their ingenuity and resources at World Series time. How much effect this post-season "all for one" policy has had is, of course, a matter for conjecture. It contrasts, however, with the bickering and jealousy evident within the National league family.

In 1928, while the Yankees were in the midst of polishing off the Cardinals four in a row, Babe Ruth brought a storm of abuse upon his head in St. Louis by saying, in effect, the Cards were no better than a third-place club, and didn't belong in the World Series. Such has been the feeling among National leaguers at various times, that managers of pennant clubs have abruptly rejected suggestions from fellow-pilots.

You have read stories of how the Yankees of 1927 "frightened" the Pirates into absorbing four straight lickings by a pre-series exhibition of slugging power by Ruth, Gehrig & Co. The fact is, as I can testify from first-hand observation, that the Pirates were groggy from the effects of a terrific pennant fight. They staged a celebration on the way home from Cincinnati that risked broken limbs and damaged at least one important pitching arm.

Last year the Giants had the jitters and were three down before they put up anything like an argument. The Yankees, on the other hand, played flawless baseball. They did not look like the same team that had dropped an entire series to the lowly Athletics in August.

Contrary to a general conception, pitching has been more important than batting power in giving American leaguers the World Series edge. The records show that each side has out-hit the other on 17 occasions.

If there's anything to cycles or the law of averages in baseball, it's the National league's turn, Yankees or no Yankees. The decade of 1908-17 saw the Americans just as dominant in the World Series as they have been in the last ten years. In between the Nationals held their own. In fact, National leaguers still like to recall that the Yankees got no better than one tie in a string of nine consecutive games against the Giants of 1921-23. Maybe the tide of spring training victory, favoring the Nationals this year, is an omen. Maybe it's an illusion, too.

Meet Mr. Gehrig!

Star of New York Yankees Enjoys Ideal Life at Home and On Playing Field; He's Popular and Good Mixer, Likes Opera and Mme. Flagstaff

BY DAVID J. WALSH
NEW YORK, April 1.—It wasn't that way with Ruth. He was theatrical, even in his failures. With Cobb, it was just one headline after another for him and one headache after another for the opposition. But, in sense, life is playing a dirty trick on Henry Louis Gehrig of the New York Yankees. It's actually taking his greatness for granted.

I suppose you can best account for this by saying that virtue is a splendid thing, but it's not very interesting.

In another sense, of course, life is withholding all too little from this young man who came out of a basement on New York's upper West Side to achieve a series of honors, many of them quite apart from his career on the ball field. For instance:

1. He's the highest paid ball player of the age, $39,000 a season.

2.—He has been voted the "outstanding young man of New York." (A distinction accorded the famous Thomas E. Dewey the year before).

3. He has made a successful Hollywood movie and probably will make more of them. He's a radio guest-artist from time to time.

4.—He holds the consecutive-game or endurance record; exactly 1,965 games without interruption since he broke into the Yankee line up in midseason of 1925. With his condition and physique, he may yet break all known records of "longevity" among major league infielders.

5.—Will go out of baseball with a personal fortune of at least a quarter of a million.

6. He has never yet hit less than 300 and generally leads in runs-batted-in in a league where many, many runs are batted in.

7. Will never make Ted Shawn jealous about his legs, but otherwise is handsomer than the law allows.

These are the more obvious of Gehrig's achievements but I wonder whether his greatest success hasn't been scored in a department that probably is fated to be passed by, unremarked in an age that is obsessed with the paltry and misses only the worth while. I'm referring to the success of Gehrig's personal life.

He's happily married and gets quiet satisfaction out of his home. He'll have one cocktail, but never two. Popular and a good mixer, he'll go off by himself to hear his favorite opera and his favorite star, Mme. Flagstad. He'll also go off by himself for a session of reading but insists upon company for his fishing and golf.

An utterly normal man, Lou Gehrig, and he's found the recipe for living that so many of us seek and seldom achieve. He's found contentment, final, complete and altogether satisfying in his savor. In fact, he's the living proof of an old, old fact that's so simple it escapes notice with most of us:

That the rugged, homely virtues need not be dull.

LOUIS-THOMAS MEET TONIGHT

Brown Bomber Will Face Another of His Warm-Up Opponent

CHICAGO, April 1.—On this April Fool's night Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, goes into the ring determined to make a fistful of Harry Thomas, rugged challenger from Eagle Bend, Minn.

They meet in a battle scheduled for 15 rounds in the Chicago stadium, with prospects of an attendance of from ten to 15 thousand, and receipts from $50,000 to $70,000.

The 23-year-old Negro titleholder is out to make Thomas hit the canvas and stay there before eight rounds are finished. Max Schmeling stopped Thomas in eight rounds on a technical finish.

Louis is tuned to physical perfection for the third defense of the title he won from James J. Braddock in Chicago last June.

Says the champion: "If I see an opening in the first round, I'll crash through with it. I'll take no chances. I never have been in better shape for any fight. I figure I'll have him dressed up before the fifth round."

Thomas has all the physical qualifications of Louis, but that is about all. Thomas enters the ring a 20-1 shot and his hopes hang entirely upon a Sunday punch from his swinging attack.

Louis expects to scale 200 pounds, with Thomas at 196.

Louis figures to collect about $25,000.

Who Has The Best Pitchers

BY PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, April 1.—Nothing arouses the ire of American league so much as the mistaken and widespread belief that their circuit is full of great hitters but lacks the classy pitchers of the National league.

They point to their winning record in world series and All-Star game play as proof of their contention that they must have had good good pitching as well as hitting to come down in front so often.

Moreover, they claim one of the American league teams—Cleveland Indians—has the best pitching staff in the country and they ask what National league team has better pitching than the Yankees.

It's true that the National league is entitled to boast of its Dizzy Dean, Carl Hubbell, Bill Fete, Lee Grissom, Larry French, Tex Carleton, Van Mungo, Cliff Melton, Cy Blanton and Jim Turner.

But are they superior to the American league's Johnny Allen, Tommy Bridges, Alden Auker, Schoolboy Rowe, Bob Ferrell, Wes Ferrell, Lefty Grove, Lefty Gomez, Red Ruffing, Monte Pearson, Mel Harder and Bob Feller?

The American league emphatically answers "No."

The junior circuit also stresses the fact that, day in and day out, the National League pitchers aren't called on to face such sluggers as the American league has to offer.

There are, admittedly, very few sluggers in the national, and pitchers never worry about the baje hitters even though their averages may be well above .300.

But the American league is full of power hitters—fellows who can break up a game Yanks can, and do, offer eight such hitters in their line-up every day and several of the other teams in the younger circuit are well loaded with lads who can knock the ball a country mile.

How would the National league pitchers fare if they had to face American league hitters every day? And, conversely, how would the American league throwers go against a daily diet of National league hitting?

The American league men believe the National league pitchers would not be able to make as good a record as they do in their own wheel and insist their own pitchers would improve on their marks if working in the National.

LEGION MAKES PLANS FOR '38 BALL PROGRAM

Places Strict Rules On Boys Playing On Junior Teams

COLUMBUS, April 1.—The Ohio department of the American Legion laid down strict eligibility rules today to govern the thousands of boys who will take part in the 1938 junior baseball program.

John Duncan, chairman of the Legion's baseball commission, said more than 500 teams were expected to participate in Ohio this season, and that there would be "no chiseling if it was in the power of the department to prevent it."

To guard against illegal substitution of players, the 11 district champions must present photographs, fingerprints and birth certificates of all members of the squad to the state department before being eligible for the state finals scheduled Aug. 1, 2, 3 and 4. The finals will be played at the Red Bird stadium, home lot of the Columbus American Association team.

Players must not have reached their 18th birthday by March 30, 1938, to be eligible. In towns of 20,000 or less teams may be recruited from any portion of the county; in towns between 20,000 and 50,000 population the players must be from within the city's corporate limits; and in cities of 50,000 or more all players on any team must come from a single High school. All must be amateurs.

District championships must be decided by July 25, and registration of all clubs must be completed by May 25.

Winner of the state championship, now held by Franklin post of Columbus, will meet the Michigan champion in regional play, after which the champions of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, West Virginia, Illinois and Wisconsin will play a sectional tourney, the winner going to the national meet. Dates and sites of the latter events have not been set.

"For a boy wishing to go into professional baseball, there is no better starting place than the Legion teams," Duncan said.

"This year, of the first 125 men to answer American Association questionnaires, 43 were graduates of Legion teams."

"Not only the minors, but the majors, too, are sprinkled with boys who got their start in the Legion program. Just a few are Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians; Mickey Owen, the St. Louis Cardi-

Indiana Grid Coach Makes It Tough For Ohio Mentors

Bo McMillan Invades Ohio To Conduct Football Clinic; Not Satisfied With Beating O. S. U.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, April 1.—Alvin N. (Bo) McMillan, former star of the "Praying Colonels" of Centre college, and now the silver-haired mentor of the University of Indiana's Hoosiers, is still making things tough for Ohio State.

Last year Bo's gridders handed the Bucks the worst defeat they've absorbed since Coach Francis A. Schmidt took charge . . . and just six months from today . . . on Oct. 1 . . . the Hoosiers will be back for another crack at the Ohioans in the 1938 opener.

But those are not the things aking the Buckeye coaching staff. The big "peeve" is that Bo won't stay on his own side of the state line during the off-season.

McMillan, who has one of those almost unheard of football things . . . a 10-year contract . . . has a one-day spring football clinic scheduled Saturday, April 9 . . . and he's going to hold it in . . . of all places . . . Van Wert, O.

Not only is the Hoosier "hot-shot" going to tell a flock of High school coaches how it's done in the big leagues . . . but he's bringing along Clyde Smith, line coach; Ralph Graham, backfield mentor; Corby Davis, his all-conference fullback, and John Olmstead, guard on the 1937 team, to clinch his arguments.

Coaches of 500 Ohio High schools have been invited to the clinic . . . and there's just a chance that some of them have some pretty fair football players graduating this year . . . who might choose Indiana instead of Ohio State or some other Buckeye school for which to do their future pigskin-toting. And so . . . Ohio resents the invasion.

What-ifs from here and there: The boys are telling around that Jesse Owens . . . Ohio State's former "Ebony Antelope" . . . paid about $15,000 to his Uncle Samuel national catcher, and Phil Cavarretta and Augie Galan of the Chicago Cubs.

in income taxes on last year's "take."

The Mansfield relays . . . scheduled April 23 . . . are branching out. The meet is sanctioned only for schools in Ohio, Michigan, West Virginia, Kentucky and Pennsylvania . . . but now Silver Creek, N. Y., wants to send a team. Director Harry Menchok says he'll try to fix it.

Toledo Publick officials predict a field of 200 for the state "pay as you play" golf meet at the Sunningdale course July 9-10 . . . and if that many participate the Lake City, home of municipal golf . . . will make a bid for the 1941 national meet.

Denison university came up today with the information that it was one of the two schools out of 22 in a cross-country survey to make money on its football program last season. The "Big Red" won the state crown, too.

Tiffin of the Ohio State baseball league is making it tough on the newspaper boys by signing a pitcher named Eliopoulos for the coming campaign. Prexy Harry Smith of that loop isn't worried. He said two of the six clubs might drop out . . . but that four others were bidding for berths.

BOWLING RESULTS

Two defeats handed the second-place Sinclairs and three set-backs administered to the Grate Recreation five enabled the Salem News to strengthen its hold on first place in the Commercial league at the Grate alleys last night.

The Newsies won three heats with the Leontia All-Stars to boost their lead over the Sinclairs to three games and over Grate's to five games.

Merit Shoes was responsible for the Sinclairs' losses, while the Crescent Machine team upset Grate Recreation. In other matches, Berg Bretzels took two out of three games from the Salem Polo club, the Ohio Bell won two out of three from People's Lumber and Bishop's Engineers topped two out of three with Smith's.

"EXTRA FARE" by Edna Robb Webster

CHAPTER XVI
"I'd like to pay you whatever this room cost extra," Mrs. Dade was anxiously vague.
"Please forget it! It was nothing, really," Jaxie reassured her, amusing the baby. Junior came to lean against her knee, enviously drawing her attention from his sister.
"I dot a ice cream cone," he boasted, "a pink one."
Between replies to Junior and amusing the baby, the women talked.
"Have you heard from your mother?" Jaxie inquired.
"No," Carrie wondered how she might have been expected to hear from her mother on a speeding train. "It has been a long day for me, wondering. It's a good thing I have the children to think about, I guess."

Jaxie reflected on the difference between this stoic little mother on her sad journey and the unencumbered Mrs. Sanders, who recognized no blessings, obvious or disguised. "Of course, the children do help. And if your mother is improved when you arrive she will be so happy to see them, too."
Mrs. Dade sighed. "I don't hope for that. Dad never would have sent for me if he had believed she would get better. He knew I couldn't afford to make this trip and he couldn't help me much. They have had so much extra expense themselves, with mother being ill, that he is real worried. They worked and planned all their lives on this trip and then Dad made a little extra on some stock he sold just at the right minute, so I persuaded them not to postpone the vacation any longer. They were so happy when they left—it can't seem right that they couldn't enjoy being out west for awhile."
Jaxie was sympathetic.
"So when Dad sent for me," the confidence was resumed, "I knew he couldn't have much hope for her. Ed—that's my husband—has been saving every dollar we could spare to go into the trucking business, but soon's he found I wanted to go, he made me take the money—even the extra fare—so I could save time." Her eyes and voice were misty with the memory of Ed's kindness; and Jaxie was silent with the thought that Kirby would be like that, too, generous and understanding.

Later, she went into the dressing room to cold-cream the soot and dust from her face and brush her hair to a smooth sheen. She was again sitting alone in her section when Mose stopped beside her to remark with a grin, "Ah see yoh neighbor decided to make friends wid yoh-all."
"Yes," laughed Jaxie, "she couldn't make anyone else miserable by being grouchy, so she changed her mind. I notice you are very patient with her whims."
Mose grinned again and said, "Yes, ma'am, it takes a lot ob Christian spirit to do it sometimes, but ah allays treat 'em de bes' ah kin, cranky or not. Trouble of 'tis, you can't please a crank lak dat, nohow. Yoh kin teach yoh brain to pieces tryin' to think ob ways to please 'em, but dey allays wants and needs de things yoh don't think ob. But two wrongs don't make nothin' right. An' sometimes it turns out bettah to be nice to dem."
"I shouldn't be surprised. And is your patience sometimes rewarded?" Jaxie asked.
"Yes, ma'am, 'tis. Jes' las' week I had a lady 'bout lak dis heah one dat I actually made her ashamed ob he's'f, bein' nice to her—she was dat onery."
"What makes you think she was ashamed?"
"Why, she done gib me de biggest tip ob eny passenger I had," he exclaimed, as if the evidence were indisputable.
Kirby appeared just then, and Mose retired obligingly. He had witnessed romances bud and bloom, also, during his years on trains. This particular one looked promising.
"Well, who won the bridge game?" Kirby inquired.
"One guess," offered Jaxie.
"I don't need four. Mrs. Grouch, of course. Imagine she's as good at bridge as she is at making other people miserable!"
"Tut, tut—you might be a grouchy old man some day, yourself," Jaxie warned him with a giggle.
"Do you think so?" he demanded.
"No, I don't!" Jaxie smiled. Her head was thrown back against the seat and her eyes looked at him through the fringe of her half-closed eyelids. His hand reached out involuntarily toward her, but he drew it back quickly and thrust it into his pocket, as if to discipline it. With a sudden deep breath he said hastily, "How about sitting on the platform for awhile before dinner? I don't think there will be so many out there, now. Almost everyone seems to be resting."
"You know I like being on the platform, don't you?"
"So do I—with you," he said softly, as she stepped into the aisle and preceded him to the rear of the car.

As Kirby had surmised, the platform was deserted. It was very warm, and the swift passage of the train across the prairies stirred the air into moving heat waves. As far as eye could see only parched grass and barren rocks stretched toward the rim of the blue sky. Not a human being was in sight and only at long intervals a small house or a rambling shack broke the monotony of the dreary landscape. Heat shimmered from the undulating rails, slipping away like endless shimmering lengths of ribbon unwinding from a magician's swift-moving hand.
"I had no idea this part of the mid-west was so desolate. How do people live in such country?" Jaxie marveled.
"You ask them and they will tell you they wouldn't live in Chicago or any other city if you gave it to them—delinquent taxes, government debts and all. They wonder how we manage to breathe, even, in cities. They pity us."
"But doesn't it almost terrify you to realize how big the world is, when you begin to travel around it? Twenty-five thousand miles do not sound such a distance, but to-day the earth's immensity awes me. Look how we are speeding over these rails—so fast that the railroad ties just melt away into space and blur your vision. The wheels click over the rail joints as fast as a watch ticks—hour after hour—for days—and we've gone only such a little distance on the map."
"A couple of inches," Kirby nodded.
"And think of the courage of those first pioneers who traveled these desolate miles, so slowly and arduously, surrounded by unknown dangers and suffering untold hardships, just to explore new country with the hope of finding something better in life and fortune."
"Plenty of them paid for it with their lives, too."
"And yet how many of the thousands of people who traverse these miles now in comfort and luxury give a thought to those who made possible such a paradise as California is today?"
"Maybe one in ten thousand, like you. The rest are too busy noticing the discomforts of train travel and relating their private misfortunes to anyone who will listen."

"They'd do better to gaze out the windows and take a lesson from these forlorn houses that appear in the distance once in a while. Look at that one, for instance," she exclaimed, as the train passed a roadside shanty whose tenants probably were railroad employees. Beside the shack grew a row of jaunty hollyhocks. "Isn't that sheer audacity for you—those bright flowers flaunting their beauty in this dreary waste? If only people were as eager to spread cheer around them! I can't understand why there isn't more happiness everywhere."
"There is more, everywhere you go." His face was very close to hers, and the way his eyes searched hers startled her.
The door opened behind them and Mose thrust his head out. "Beg pardon, suh, but a gentleman inside wants to speak wid yoh-all a minute."
Kirby rose quickly and thanked him. To Jaxie he said, "If you will pardon me, please. Do you want to stay here until I return?"
"Yes—I'll see you later, if you don't come back. I'll have to get dressed for dinner."
"You are having dinner with me, you know."
She hesitated. "Will you let me pay my own check, then?"
"Of course not."
"Then I shall dine alone. I'm not in the habit of allowing someone to buy all my meals. And I—don't know you—very well, yet, Mr. Elliott."
"Don't you?" he challenged. "You prefer dining alone, then?"
"Oh, no, I'd much rather have your company," she admitted hastily.
"Very well, you are having dinner with me."

Chesterfield CIGARETTES

First for refreshing mildness —first for pleasing taste and aroma that smokers like —only cigarette about which smokers say "They Satisfy"

The mild ripe tobaccos—home-grown and aromatic Turkish —and the pure cigarette paper used in Chesterfields are the best ingredients a cigarette can have. They Satisfy.
